The session was overall about the restriction which are needed because of some societal morals and law's which are impacted due to vulgarness and any content which may be inappropriate or controversial topic in eyes of our society. In this session we also get to know about some new articles ,sections ,and acts (for eg. Censorship Act 1952). As the session was interesting, participants asked many more questions such as;What kind of parental guidance should be taken by parents if there kids are watching adult movies? and Why do the Tax fees of Controversial movies (:for e.g. Kerala story) should be not applicable? . At the end of the session Dr. Vaishali Arora ma'am also shared here email I'd among the participants, who may ask her questions by emailing her by themselves. The webinar was conducted at 11:00A.M through Google Meet.

The Guest-Speaker of the webinar-Dr. Indrajit Ghosal was warmly welcomed by our fellow student Ms.Gargi Deb.

Ms.Gargi Deb gave a brief introduction about Dr. Indrajit Ghosal and his excellent career over the years.

Dr. Indrajit Ghosal began the webinar with the brief information about research methodology. Secondly, he covered the types of research which were having two types where in one of them is Empirical Research and the other is Non Empirical Research which is further divided into Doctrinal and Non-Doctrinal Research. Discussing the aforementioned concepts, he then stated that research involves application of method and techniques in the context of research article topic.

The esteemed guest-speaker then brought in the topic of role of reviewer in writing research article. A review article, also called a literature review, is a survey of previously published research on a topic. It should give an overview of current thinking on the theme and, unlike an original research article, won't present new experimental results. The structure of the review report varies between journals. Some follow an informal structure, while others have a more formal approach.

While speaking on the topic of mandatory requirement for writing research article from reviewer point of view, Sir stated that the publisher-editor and the writer of the article are vicariously liable, for what they have written in the article. Sir explained in detail the mandatory requirement to write a review article, which includes:

1. To provide a comprehensive foundation on a topic
2. To explain the current state of knowledge
3. To identify gaps in existing studies for potential future research
4. To highlight the main methodologies and research techniques.

Amplifying on this topic he lastly said that now the reviewers have to give mandatory article while reviewing the article.

The students were attentively listening to the topics covered by the Guest-Speaker due to which various questions were being raised during the Q&A session which was being effectively answered by the esteemed guest speaker Dr. Indrajit Ghosal. The Q&A session was conducted by Ms.Priyal Shah. The Webinar was concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Ms.Gargi Deb.

MANUPATRA STUDENTS' OREINTATION

Date - 24/10/2018

Venue -Seminar Hall, Thakur Ramnarayan College of Law

Time -11:00 a.m.

Guest for the Lecture - Mr. Samrat Dhorde

Prepared by - Aparna Achary (S.Y.B.L.S.)

Manupatra, is India's premier legal information resource online and is the pioneer in online legal research in India since 2001. It is the largest content aggregator of Indian and International material, linking primary information, secondary material and proprietary analytical content. As legal research takes up lots of time and energy, Manupatra helps to get content in time and results in being an efficient tool for research. Thakur Ramnarayan College of Law had an orientation for the students on how to use and access Manupatra. As during competitions, students need a reliable source from which they can search cases in a more fast, relevant and efficient way and the college has provided the students the access to Manupatra. It can sometimes be challenging to use or search cases laws relevant to your case. And this session threw light on the major aspect of how to do a legal search and a Manu search in this website. The seminar was addressed by Mr. Samrat Dhorde, and he addressed the students about various search patterns and how you can search a case just by the small information you have in hand. Searching cases by dates, just by one party's name, by the judges' name who gave the judgement, or by statutes, etc. How to search cases in Manupatra was the major aspect which was covered by the guest. And how there were many ways of viewing a case, its summary and its judgement which can be easily summarized and be viewed in short for easy, fast and better understanding of a case. The guest lecturer also enlightened the students on the ways of viewing a case file to one's convenience and opening the case file in different formats. The seminar was concluded with a Q & A session in which the doubts of the students were cleared. For this session students will also be given an online certificate. Also to conclude, this session was focusing on how to search for cases in Manupatra and it was clearly solved and explained by the guest of honour.
