To discuss the conduct of the session

BRIEF INTRODUCTION AND DISCUSSIONS DURING THE SESSION

The session started with the students introducing their course followed by a brief introduction to the concept of reprogramming of mind. The concept of reprogramming your mind refers to the process of consciously and intentionally changing your thoughts, beliefs, and patterns of thinking to create a more positive and empowering mindset. It involves recognizing and challenging negative or limiting beliefs and replacing them with more supportive and beneficial ones.

Activities conducted to relate with the concept -

1. Magnet - students kept their hands in the air, palms facing each other with some gap between them. The students were asked to concentrate by closing their eyes and repeating "Magnet Magnet Magnet" non verbally. By the end of this activity, no space was left between the palms and both the palms were touching each other. This teaches controlling one's own mind, helps in yoga, meditation and manifestation.

2. The second activity gives a message of positive affirmation. Positive affirmations are powerful statements that help to reframe and reprogram one's thought, beliefs and self-perception. For this activity the students were asked to tear a sheet of paper, take a pen and close their eyes. The speaker i.e Mr. Sumeet Rathod was giving instructions which the students had to follow, like, draw a line of 2.7 cm on the paper, and on the same line write your name, fold the paper into one half, draw a circle with a radius of

THAKUR RAMNARAYAN COLLEGE OF LAW

0.4 cm, mark the centre of the circle, fold the paper, write down the name of your favourite dish and so on.

3. Opposite attracts - 8 students volunteered to be a part of this activity. Certain commands were given by Mr Sumeet Rathod, the students had to perform the action opposite to the command given by him. The students stood in a circle, if commanded to jump in, they were expected to jump out.

4. My bottle - 8 students volunteered and divided themselves into 4 teams having 2 in each team and stood facing each other keeping a bottle in front of them. When given commands like head, shoulder, knees and toes, the students had to touch the respective body part and during this, Mr Sumeet Rathod would say BOTTLE, the students had to grab the bottle. This activity was conducted for activeness of mind. Having an active mind brings numerous benefits, including enhanced creativity, improved cognitive abilities, increased productivity, mental resilience and the ability to adapt to new challenges.

BRIEF INTRODUCTION AND DISCUSSIONS DURING THE SESSIONS

Principal

Thakur Ramnarayan College of Law conducted a Webinar on 12th February, 2022 on the Topic- Mandatory Requirement For Writing Research Article From Reviewer Point Of View.

The resource person for the webinar was our esteemed Guest-Speaker Dr. Indrajit Ghosal.

The webinar was conducted at 11:00A.M through Google Meet.

The Guest-Speaker of the webinar-Dr. Indrajit Ghosal was warmly welcomed by our fellow student Ms.Gargi Deb.

Ms.Gargi Deb gave a brief introduction about Dr. Indrajit Ghosal and his excellent career over the years.

Dr. Indrajit Ghosal began the webinar with the brief information about research methodology.

Secondly, he covered the types of research which were having two types where in one of them is

Empirical Research and the other is Non Empirical Research which is further divided into Doctrinal and Non-Doctrinal Research. Discussing the aforementioned concepts, he then stated that research involves application of method and techniques in the context of research article topic.

The esteemed guest-speaker then brought in the topic of role of reviewer in writing research article.

A review article, also called a literature review, is a survey of previously published research on a topic. It should give an overview of current thinking on the theme and, unlike an original research article, won't present new experimental results. The structure of the review report varies between journals. Some follow an informal structure, while others have a more formal approach.

While speaking on the topic of mandatory requirement for writing research article from reviewer point of view, Sir stated that the publisher-editor and the writer of the article are vicariously liable, for what they have written in the article. Sir explained in detail the mandatory requirement to write a review article, which includes:

1. To provide a comprehensive foundation on a topic
2. To explain the current state of knowledge
3. To identify gaps in existing studies for potential future research
4. To highlight the main methodologies and research techniques.

Amplifying on this topic he lastly said that now the reviewers have to give mandatory article while reviewing the article.

The students were attentively listening to the topics covered by the Guest-Speaker due to which various questions were being raised during the Q&A session which was being effectively answered by the esteemed guest speaker Dr. Indrajit Ghosal. The Q&A session was conducted by Ms.Priyal Shah. The Webinar was concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Ms.Gargi Deb.

SEMINAR ON "MOTIVATION IS JUNK" BY MS. SHWETA GARG

DATE: 21ST FEBRUARY 2019

BY: APARNA ACHARY

THAKUR RAMNARAYAN COLLEGE OF LAW

Motivation is one of many things a student or a person searches to get on with a task at hand. The students of Thakur Ramnarayan College of Law had the opportunity to understand the concept of motivation under soft skills by Ms. Shweta Garg, who is the founder of Dream Image and an Image Consultant and NLP certified Behavioural Trainer. She started off by making the students understand the actual meaning of motivation. And how we think that we be pushed for our vision rather than the vision pulling you towards it. She also had a very interactive session with the students and kept them engaging in and out. A new method for overcoming your stress and achieving your goal was introduced, namely the 5 second rule. And how to develop good habits that ultimately gets you to your goal. Her approach was very optimistic and urged the students to do some physical activity to energize themselves. She ended the seminar with a quote of Robin Sharma stating, "Genius is not about genetics and more about discipline and habits". I hope this seminar actually threw light on student's habits and how they perceive to be motivated. As rightly said by Ms. Garg, inspiration is of more value than motivation itself.
